In 2003 and after eighteen-years in the freight industry, Drew Singleton Wilder, founded Vicarious Liability Risk Mgt. LLC (VLRM). In doing so, Drew has assembled a team of compliance professionals, who also have years of experience working in the freight industry.

From Dock Operations, Director of Risk Management, to founder and CEO of VLRM. Drew has a proven history of professionalism and subject matter expertise in motor carrier, freight brokerage and freight forwarding operations, safety, risk management, claims, and certificate of insurance compliance. And on occasion has served as a subject matter expert for Law Firms. Drew is also actively involved in legislation (<https://avworkgroupwa.org>) that impacts the trucking industry within Washington State. He was selected in 2018 to serve as co-chair on the Department of Licensing autonomous vehicle sub-committee, one of seven subcommittees (Liability, Infrastructure & Systems, Safety, System Technology & Data Security, Labor & Workforce, and Health & Equity). The sub-committees are tasked with identifying and accessing the many challenges associated with autonomous vehicles and making recommendations to the Executive Committee Workgroup for consideration.

Drew is a graduate of the University of Washington School of Law, Master of Jurisprudence and earned a Bachelor of Science degree, Law, Politics and Economy, University of Washington, Bachelor of Science, Business Management, University of Phoenix, Tukwila, Washington, and AAS, Freight Logistics Mgmt., Green River College, Auburn, Washington.
